Only in Texas

So, last night late after work... Wow!!!! Only in ccorpus christi I pulled in to get gas and had to pay inside as the credit card reader was busted. As I was walking in, I noticed these 2 cops watching a man who was smoking while pumping gas. I saw him and thought, "Is this Man stupid or crazy?" With the officers right there too?! But anyway, I went inside and paid. As I was signing the receipt, I heard someone screaming. I looked out the window and the man's arm was on fire! He was swinging his arm and running around going crazy! I ran outside and saw the officers had put him on the ground and were putting the fire out with their coffees!! Then they put handcuffs on him and threw him in their car. What kind of person smokes near a gas pump?! Is it illegal? I asked what they were arresting him for. The officer looked me square in the eyes and said "WAVING A FIREARM!"
