Msg #1752 Jesus Comes to Our House

What The Bible Says Good Samaritan's Penny Pulpit by Pastor Ed Rice

Msg #1752 Jesus Comes to Our House What The Bible Says Good Samaritan's Penny Pulpit by Pastor Ed Rice In my childhood on vinyl in high-fi, Red Harper sang a song, "If Jesus came to your house to spend a day or two, If he came unexpected, I wonder what you'd do.... would you hide some magazines, put the Bible where they'd been?..." When the Only Begotten Son of God came into our world to visit for awhile, consider the plight that was placed in each life that was involved. The New Testament opens with the plight of Joseph and his espoused wife. Its 22nd verse calls out the plight of the prophets who each could say, "Who hath believed our report, and to whom is the arm of the Lord revealed?" The Gospel of Luke opens with the plight of Zacharias (Hbrw- Jehovah remembers) who at first couldn't believe, and then the plight of Mary who immediately did. The plight of the shepherds, whether to go and see; the wise men, of course, and how to find him. The plight of Herod needs consideration, it tells how depraved humanity can get. The plight of just and devout Simeon (Hbrw- a rock or stone) and Anna widowed son of Phanuel (Hbrw- grace & facing God), each would not see death till they had seen the Lord's Christ. A favorite of mine, often overlooked, is the plight of the doctors who were both hearing the twelve year old, and asking him questions; none should get a doctorate until they have at least done that. Any, or all ten, of these plights are good studies for those celebrating the birth of the Only Begotten Son of God, born in the barn, in that manger, in those swaddling cloths, under that star. And therein you have only touched the hem of his garment. Merry Christmas. If he came without warning, I wonder what you'd do. Yes if Jesus came to your house, to spend a day or two. If he came unexpected, just dropped in on you. Ahh I know you'd give your nicest room, to such an honored guest. And all the food you'd serve to him, would be your the best. And you would keep reassuring him, that you're glad to have him there. That serving him in your home, is joy beyond compare. But when you saw him coming, would you meet him at the door, With arms out stretched in welcome, to your heavenly visitor. Or would you have to change you clothes, before you'd let him in. Or hide some magazines, and put the bible where they had been. Would you turn off the radio, and hope he hadn't heard. And wish you hadn't uttered, that last loud hasty word. Would you hide your worldly music, and put some hymn books out. Could you just let Jesus walk right in, or would you rush about. And I wonder, if the savior spent a day or two with you. Would you go right on doing, the things you always do. Would you go right on saying, the things you always say. Would life for you continue, as it does from day to day. Would your family conversations, keep up its normal pace. And would you find it hard each meal to say a table grace. Would you sing the songs you always sing, And read the books you read. And let him know the things on which you mind and spirit feed. Would you take Jesus with you everywhere you planned to go. Or maybe would you change your plans, for just a day or so. Would you be glad for him meet your very closest friends. Or hope that they'd stay away, until his visit ends. Would you be glad to have him stay forever on and on. Or would you sigh with great relief, when he at last was gone. It might be interesting to know the things that you would do, If Jesus came in person, to spend some time with you. If Jesus came to your house, I wonder what you'd do.
