Broken Links Updated

The good news is I have updated all the broken links that have shown up in the links section of the website. The bad news is that from what I have seen, I still may not have an all inclusive broken link list. You can help by submitting an error report if you happen upon an unmarked broken link. I will pay more attention to the option available to do a link check when I go through again on the first of June. I still have a boatload of broken links in videos and articles to go through.
